MEMCOM

Memcom is the new lift emergency telephone system designed and manufactured by Memco the world's leading supplier of infra-red detectors for elevator doors. The Memcom allows trapped passengers easy, handsfree connection with up to 4 pre-programmed telephone numbers in the event of a lift trapping emergency. High quality, advanced electronics give excellent sound, acoustics and reliability, backed up by help and technical support from the Memco network of offices across Europe and distributors worldwide. There are 2 models available for installation to either the cabin roof (TOC model) or directly behind the car operating panel.

Easy installation

Wiring is minimised, only 2 wires required for MPS extension, installation is simple.

Up to 8 Memcom units on 1 line

Program an extension number for each Memcom to allow for remote access to each.

Easy programming

Display and keypad make this job simple.

Number talkback

Check programming remotely via talkback.

EN81 compliance

Memcom's design and accessories allow compliance to all of EN81-28 and EN81-70.

EN81-28 testing

Memcom can test call to Memco Globalnet every 3 days free of charge in the 1st year.

E-Mail service

Memco Globalnet can email advice of any failed technical tests direct to the lift company.

Multi Point Station

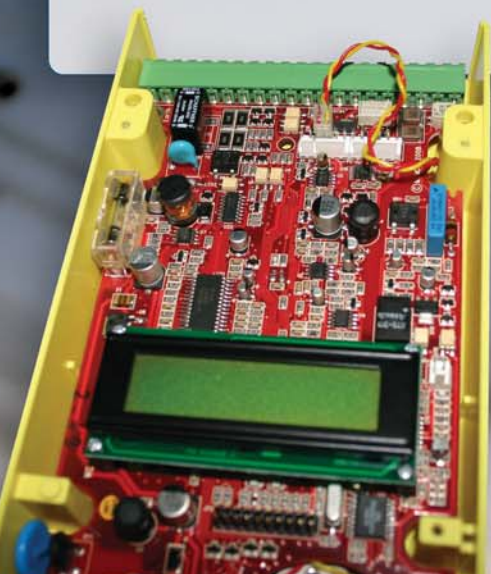

Up to 3 Memcom MPS units can be used in the pit, motor room or on the cabin roof.

Battery Back Up

Memcom's battery can support the entire system – up to 3 MPS units and a Memcom GSM

Memcom ETR Software

Programming and call receiving software which offers up to date features and benefits using a standard modem.
